Narrating & Looking Back

Tell stories in layers, not in a straight line. Imagine how things could have turned out differently. Then talk about wishes, small regrets and preferences: I wish I'd set an alarm. I'd rather walk. It's high time we fixed the printer.

Lessons 1.1-1.3

Classes C1-C3

Level B2

Name: _____

WELCOME TO B2!

At B2 you already have the grammar for most situations. Now you'll work on range and nuance: combining tenses to tell a richer story, choosing the exact form for what you mean, arguing a point, and adjusting how formal you sound. Mistakes are a normal part of trying something more ambitious.

Every class: bring this workbook. At home: do the online lesson for each class (every lesson has  Listen buttons) and write two sentences in your journal.

Icons:  Write •  Listen •  Say •  Work with a partner •  Read

This module is about looking back, so your stories and wishes are your choice. Talk about small, everyday things in your real life, or use a new identity card, or invent something. All are good. You can always say "Pass."

NEW WORDS — TELLING A STORY

excited

an anecdote = a short, true (or true-sounding) story about something that happened · a mix-up = a mistake where two things get confused · a near miss = something bad almost happened · relieved = happy because a worry is over · it turned out (that)... = in the end, we learned that...

Sequencing words to make the order clear:

By the time...

while / as

already

until

by then before / after

Storytelling phrases:

You'll never guess what happened...

All of a sudden,...

To make things worse,...

Luckily,...

It turned out that...

In the end,...

GRAMMAR BOX

Four past tenses, four jobs in a story:

Past simple	the main events , in order	She opened the door.
Past continuous	background in progress · was / were + -ing	The rain was falling outside.
Past perfect	an earlier event · had + past participle	Someone had broken the window.
Past perfect continuous	how long an activity had been going on · had been + -ing	They'd been arguing for hours.

had done	a finished action, or a number	By noon she'd written three emails.
had been doing	the activity and its duration, or the cause of a result	Her eyes were tired. She'd been reading all morning.
State verbs	know, be, have (own), want, like, believe stay simple	I'd known him for years. ❌ I'd been knowing him while / as + a long background action (past continuous) · when + the short action that interrupts it (past simple): While I was cooking, the phone rang.

Use the past perfect when the order matters. With before and after, the past simple is often enough: After I finished, I left. ✓ 🔹 🗣️ EXERCISE 1 – LISTEN: THE WRONG TRAIN. WRITE THE VERBS.

Your teacher tells a short story. First, answer: Why was the speaker late? _____

1. Last Saturday I _____ to my friend Leo's birthday lunch.
2. I _____ forward to it all week.
3. I _____ on the train when I noticed it was going the wrong way.
4. I _____ the express train by mistake!
5. By the time I got off, I _____ twenty minutes in the wrong direction.
6. I _____ so carefully that...
7. ...I _____ any of the announcements.
8. When I called Leo, they _____ eating.

🗣️ Which verbs are background? Which are earlier events? Tell a partner.

🔹 ✎ EXERCISE 2 – CHOOSE THE NARRATIVE TENSE

Put the verb in the best past tense.

1. When we arrived, the movie _____ (already / start).
2. She was tired because she _____ (work) all day.
3. While I _____ (drive) home, I saw an accident.
4. By the time he retired, he _____ (work) there for 30 years.
5. I _____ (not meet) her before that evening.
6. The phone _____ (ring) while I was taking a shower.
7. We _____ (walk) for three hours when it started to snow.
8. When I opened the box, I saw that someone _____ (eat) all the cookies.

🔹 ✎ EXERCISE 3 – SIMPLE OR CONTINUOUS? CIRCLE THE BETTER FORM.

1. By noon, Maria had written / had been writing six emails.
2. Her eyes were tired because she had read / had been reading all morning.
3. I had known / had been knowing my neighbor for years before I learned her last name.
4. The kitchen smelled wonderful. Dad had cooked / had been cooking since lunchtime.
5. By the end of the day, the team had painted / had been painting three rooms.
6. We were soaking wet because we had waited / had been waiting in the rain for the bus.

 EXERCISE 4 – SEQUENCING WORDS

Complete with: by the time · while · when · already · just · until

1. _____ I was cooking dinner, my brother called.
2. _____ we reached the theater, the show had started.
3. I had _____ sat down when the doorbell rang.
4. We stayed inside _____ the rain had stopped.
5. She was reading quietly _____ the lights suddenly went out.
6. When I got to the store, it had _____ closed.

 EXERCISE 5 – FROM FLAT TO LAYERED

This story is correct, but flat. Rewrite it with a background (past continuous), an earlier event (past perfect), and a duration (past perfect continuous). Add one sequencing word.

I got to work. My boss was angry. The meeting started at nine. I missed it.

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

A: You'll never guess what happened on Tuesday.

B: Go on. What?

A: I'd been working on a big report all afternoon, and I was just finishing the last page when the power went out.

B: Oh no! Had you saved it?

A: That's the thing. I hadn't saved it for about two hours.

B: So you'd lost everything?

A: I thought so! I was sitting there in the dark, feeling terrible, when my coworker came over. She'd been having the same problem for weeks, so she knew the trick.

B: What trick?

A: The program saves a copy every ten minutes. By the time the lights came back on, she'd already found my report. I was so relieved!

 Find one example of each tense: past simple _____ · past continuous _____ · past perfect _____ · past perfect continuous _____

 SPEAKING – STORY RECONSTRUCTION

 Your group gets 8 strips from a story. Put them in order. The tenses and the sequencing words are your clues.

Our story: A • The Wedding Cake ☐ B • Locked Out ☐ Our order: _____

 Now turn the strips over and retell the story from another person's point of view (look at your retell card). Use:

- ◆ ☐ two had been + -ing: "I'd been driving since six that morning..."
- ◆ ☐ two sequencing words: by the time, while, when, already, just...
- ◆ ☐ one feeling: nervous, worried, relieved, excited

◆ MY ANECDOTE PLANNER (HOMEWORK)

Plan a small memorable story: a mix-up, a funny surprise, a near miss, a day when everything went wrong (or right). Real, from a new identity card, or invented. Write notes, not sentences. Then tell it out loud (or record it) in about 2 minutes.

The main events (past simple)
The background (past continuous)
What had happened before (past perfect)
How long something had been going on (had been + -ing)
Sequencing words I'll use

◆ SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

1

"When I got to the airport, the plane ____." The plane left before I arrived. Which is correct?

A) had already taken off

B) took off

C) was taking off

2

"She was exhausted because she ____ all night." Choose the best form to stress duration.

A) had been studying

B) studied

C) has been studying

Which sentence is correct?

A) I had been knowing him for ten years when we finally met in person.

B) I had known him for ten years when we finally met in person.

C) I was knowing him for ten years when we finally met in person.

◆ ☒ I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ name the job of each narrative tense: event, background, earlier event, duration
- ◆ ☐ use had been + -ing for how long something had been going on
- ◆ ☐ choose had done or had been doing, and keep state verbs simple
- ◆ ☐ make the order clear with by the time, while, when, already, just, until
- ◆ ☐ retell a story from another person's point of view

◆  MY NEW WORDS

◆  MY JOURNAL (2 SENTENCES)

Write the first two sentences of a small story, using three different past tenses. Underline each verb and label its job.

1.2 The Third Conditional — What Could Have Happened

Class C2

NEW WORDS — IMAGINING A DIFFERENT PAST

a turning point = a moment after which things change · a chain reaction = one event causes the next, and the next... · by chance = without a plan · in hindsight = looking back, with what I know now · a silver lining = something good in a bad situation · It's a good thing (that)... = I'm glad that...

Phrase bank:

If I had known,...

I would have...

You could have...!

We might have...

If only I'd...

If I hadn't..., I wouldn't be... now

Things would have been different if...

I never would have...

GRAMMAR BOX

The third conditional imagines the opposite of what really happened. It can't change now.

Reality	I didn't leave early. I missed the train.
Third conditional	If I had left early, I would have caught the train.
Form	If + had + past participle , ... would have + past participle
Other order	I would have caught the train if I'd left early. (no comma) would have	certain	If we'd left earlier, we would have caught it.

could have	it was possible	If we'd left earlier, we could have caught it.
might have	maybe, not sure	If we'd left earlier, we might have caught it.

Can it still change? Yes → second conditional: If I had money, I'd travel. · No → third: If I'd had money, I'd have traveled.

Mixed: past → now	If + had + pp, ... would + base verb	If I'd taken that job, I would be rich now .
Mixed: always → past	If + past simple / were , ... would have + pp	If I were more careful, I wouldn't have lost my keys.

We say would've /'wʊdəv/, and it sounds like "would of." But we always write would have or would've. ❌ would of · ❌ If I would have known

EXERCISE 1 — LISTEN: THE PICNIC THAT WASN'T

Your teacher tells a story. First write two things that really happened:

a) _____ b) _____

Now complete the sentences. Use the verbs in parentheses.

1. If we _____ (check) the forecast, we _____ (not plan) a picnic.
2. If we _____ (bring) an umbrella, we _____ (not get) so wet.
3. If we _____ (not go) into the café, we _____ (not meet) Leo.
4. If we _____ (not meet) Leo, we _____ (not be) friends again now.

 Sentence 4 is different. Why? _____

 EXERCISE 2 – PUT IT IN THE THIRD CONDITIONAL

1. If I _____ (know) it was your birthday, I _____ (buy) a cake.
2. She _____ (not miss) the flight if she _____ (set) an alarm.
3. If they _____ (listen) to the guide, they _____ (not get) lost.
4. We _____ (win) the game if the referee _____ (not make) that call.
5. If you _____ (ask) me, I _____ (help) you move.
6. If the store _____ (be) open, I _____ (can / buy) some milk.

 EXERCISE 3 – SECOND OR THIRD CONDITIONAL?

Can the situation still change? Complete the sentence and write 2nd or 3rd.

1. I don't speak Japanese. If I _____ (speak) Japanese, I'd read that book. → _____
2. I didn't save the file. If I _____ (save) it, I wouldn't have lost my work. → _____
3. We're not rich. If we _____ (be) rich, we'd buy a boat. → _____
4. You didn't warn me. If you _____ (warn) me, I would have been careful. → _____
5. The bus is always late. If it _____ (come) on time, I _____ (not need) to leave so early. → _____
6. The bus was late yesterday. If it _____ (come) on time, I _____ (not miss) the start of the movie. → _____

 EXERCISE 4 – WOULD, COULD OR MIGHT? CIRCLE THE BEST WORD.

1. I'm sure about this: if we'd taken a taxi, we would / might have arrived on time.
2. If I'd asked her, she would / might have said yes. I'm really not sure.
3. You didn't tell me you needed a ride! I had my car, so I could / would have picked you up. (It was possible.)
4. You could / might have called! I was worried all night.
5. If he hadn't been so tired, he would / might have enjoyed the party more. Who knows?

 EXERCISE 5 – BUILD A MIXED CONDITIONAL

Decide the time of the cause and the time of the result. Then write one sentence.

1. I didn't learn to drive. That's why I'm not independent now. → _____
2. He isn't organized. That's why he forgot the meeting yesterday. → _____
3. Mia took a free cooking class two years ago. That's why she runs a food truck today. → _____
4. I stayed up until 2 a.m. last night. That's why I'm so tired now. → _____
5. Sam is very shy. That's why he didn't speak at yesterday's meeting. → _____

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

A: I still can't believe we missed the concert. If we hadn't taken the highway, we would've gotten there in time.

B: Honestly, you could have checked the traffic before we left. I did say something felt wrong.

A: I know, I know. If you'd told me you were worried, I would've listened.

B: Well, if I were a bit more assertive, I probably would've insisted. So it's on both of us.

A: True. And if we'd left even ten minutes earlier, we might have made it anyway.

B: If only we had! Still, if we hadn't gotten lost, we wouldn't be sitting in this great little café right now. Silver lining.

 Find: a could have criticism _____ · a might have _____ · a mixed conditional about now _____

 SPEAKING – CHAIN OF CONSEQUENCES

 Your group has a start card. Each new link starts with the result of the last one:

Ana's alarm didn't go off. → If Ana's alarm had gone off, she wouldn't have missed the bus. → If she hadn't missed the bus, she wouldn't have walked through the park. → ...

After 4 links, turn over the ending card. Reach it in 3–4 more links. The last link is a mixed conditional: ...she wouldn't be running a food truck today!

 Write our best link here: _____

 SMALL TURNING POINTS (HOMEWORK)

Choose one: ☐ small turning points in my life (a hobby I started, a class I chose, an app or phone I bought, a friend I met by chance at work or in class) · ☐ my new identity card · ☐ an invented person. Write 4–5 sentences. Use at least one third conditional, one mixed conditional, and one could have or might have. Keep it small: you don't need to write about big life decisions.

Example: Three years ago a coworker invited me to a salsa class. If she hadn't invited me, I would never have tried dancing. If I hadn't gone, I wouldn't have so many new friends now!

Which sentence is written correctly?

A) If I had seen it, I would have told you.

B) If I had seen it, I would of told you.

C) If I would have seen it, I told you.

2

"I didn't take the job in Berlin. If I ____ it, I ____ living in Germany now."

A) had taken ... would be

B) had taken ... would have been

C) took ... would be

3

Your friend didn't tell you about a big sale, and you missed it. You're annoyed. What do you say?

A) You could have told me!

B) You could told me!

C) You could of told me!

✓ I CAN...

- ☐ form the third conditional: If I had..., I would have...
- ☐ "flip" a third conditional to find what really happened
- ☐ choose would have, could have or might have
- ☐ choose the second or third conditional ("Can it still change?")
- ☐ link a past cause to a present result with a mixed conditional

- ◆ ☐ write would have / would've, never "would of"

◆ MY NEW WORDS

◆ MY JOURNAL (2 SENTENCES)

Write one small fact from your week. Then write it as a third conditional and as a mixed conditional.

NEW WORDS — WISHES AND COMPLAINTS overdue = it should have happened already · to put something off = to delay it · to get around to (doing) something = to finally find time for it · to be fed up with = to be tired of and annoyed by something · a habit = something you do often, without thinking · a complaint / a suggestion

Phrase bank:

I wish I had...

I wish I'd...

If only...!

I wish you wouldn't...

I'd rather... than...

I'd rather not.

I'd rather you didn't...

Would you rather...?

It's time we...

It's high time...

It's about time...

It's time to...

GRAMMAR BOX

One trick: a past form can mean unreal or not yet.

Present wish	wish / if only + past simple (or could, were)	I wish I had more time. (I don't.)
Past regret	wish / if only + past perfect	I wish I had set an alarm. (I didn't.)
Annoyance	wish + someone / something else + would	I wish the printer would work!

✗ I wish I would exercise more. → ✓ I wish I exercised more. / I wish I could find the time.

I'd rather + base verb	my preference	I'd rather walk than wait for the bus.
I'd rather + someone + past simple	what I want someone else to do (now / later)	I'd rather you didn't call after ten.
It's time + subject + past simple	it should happen now	It's time we left .
It's high / about time + past simple	it's overdue (a little annoyed)	It's high time they fixed the elevator.
It's time to + base verb	no person named	It's time to go .

EXERCISE 1 — LISTEN: THE OFFICE KITCHEN

Two coworkers, Ana and Joe, are in the office kitchen. Complete what they say. Then write N (about now) or P (about the past).

1. Ana: "I wish I _____ my own lunch today." _____
2. Joe: "I wish people _____ the microwave after they use it." _____
3. Ana: "I wish we _____ a bigger fridge." _____
4. Joe: "If only I _____ the coffee yesterday!" _____
5. Ana: "It's high time the company _____ a new coffee machine." _____
6. Joe: "I _____ go to the café across the street than drink this." _____

7. I didn't bring a jacket, and it's freezing. → I wish I _____ (bring) a jacket.
8. My apartment is so small. → I wish my apartment _____ (be) bigger.

 EXERCISE 3 – REWRITE WITH I WISH... OR IF ONLY...

1. If I had saved more money, I could have traveled. → I wish _____
2. I ate too much, and now I feel sick. → I wish _____
3. We didn't book a table, so we couldn't get in. → If only _____
4. I forgot her birthday. → I wish _____
5. My roommate never closes the door. It's so annoying! → I wish my roommate _____
6. It keeps raining, and I want to go outside. → I wish it _____

 EXERCISE 4 – WOULD RATHER OR IT'S TIME?

1. I'd rather _____ (walk) than take the bus.
2. I'd rather you _____ (not park) in front of my garage.
3. It's high time the building manager _____ (do) something about the elevator.

4. It's time we _____ (go). It's getting dark.
5. Would you rather I _____ (call) you or emailed you?
6. I'd rather not _____ (talk) about it right now.
7. It's time _____ (start) the meeting.

 EXERCISE 5 – FIND THE MISTAKE. WRITE THE CORRECT SENTENCE.

2. It's time we leave. → _____
3. I'd rather you don't go. → _____
4. I wish I would have studied. → _____
5. I'd rather to stay home tonight. → _____
6. I wish you will pass your driving test! (You think it's possible.) → _____

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Nadia: You look exhausted.

Tom: I am. I wish I hadn't stayed up so late finishing that report. If only I'd started it on Monday like you told me.

Nadia: Ha! It's high time you learned to plan ahead.

Tom: I know, I know. But honestly, I wish my manager wouldn't give me things at the last minute.

Nadia: Fair. So, lunch? There's that new Thai place.

Tom: To be honest, I'd rather just grab a sandwich and sit outside. I'd rather we didn't spend an hour waiting in line.

Nadia: Deal. And it's about time we caught up properly. I feel like I never see you.

Tom: Same. I wish I had more free weekends. OK, it's time we got going before the good tables fill up.

 Tom says "I wish" three times. Which one is about the past? _____ Which one is a complaint about someone else? _____

 SPEAKING – WOULD YOU RATHER? AND THE WISH LIST MEETING

 Would You Rather? Answer in two sentences: "I'd rather ... than ... because..." Then answer the follow-up: "I'd rather you ..." "I'd rather not say!" is always OK.

 Wish List Meeting. Your group has a place (an apartment building, an office, a park, our classroom) and a role. Prepare your sentences, then agree on the top 3 changes.

Present wish

I wish _____

Present wish	If only _____
Regret about a past decision	I wish they hadn't _____
Overdue	It's high time _____
Preference	I'd rather they _____
Polite disagreement	I see your point, but _____

Our top 3: 1. _____ 2. _____ 3. _____

MY WISHES & PREFERENCES (HOMEWORK)

Write six sentences about everyday things: a habit, something you bought, your week, your street, your workplace, or this class. Or use your new identity card, or an invented person. Small things only: you never have to write about anything you don't want to.

- ◆ ☐ wish / if only + past perfect (a small regret)
- ◆ ☐ wish + past simple (a present wish)
- ◆ ☐ I'd rather + base verb (my preference)
- ◆ ☐ I'd rather + someone + past simple
- ◆ ☐ it's (high / about) time + past simple
- ◆ ☐ one more of my choice

1

You didn't apply for the scholarship, and now you regret it. Which sentence expresses that past regret?

A) I wish I had applied for the scholarship.

B) I wish I applied for the scholarship.

C) I wish I would apply for the scholarship.

2

You want your roommate to do the dishes more often, starting now. "It's high time you ____ the dishes."

A) washed

B) wash

C) had washed

3

Your neighbor plays loud music every night. Which sentence is correct?

A) I'd rather you didn't play your music so loud at night.

B) I'd rather you don't play your music so loud at night.

C) I'd rather you not to play your music so loud at night.

◆  I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ make a present wish: I wish I had more time.
- ◆ ☐ express a past regret: I wish I'd set an alarm. If only I hadn't...
- ◆ ☐ complain about someone else's habit: I wish you wouldn't...
- ◆ ☐ say my preference: I'd rather walk than...
- ◆ ☐ say what I want someone else to do: I'd rather you didn't...
- ◆ ☐ say something is overdue: It's high time they fixed...

◆  MY NEW WORDS

◆  MY JOURNAL (2 SENTENCES)

Write one small regret from this week. Then turn it into a plan: "I wish I'd..., so from tomorrow I'll..."

MODULE 1 — WELL DONE! 🎉

You can tell a story in layers, imagine how the past could have been different, and talk about wishes, small regrets and preferences. Look at your three "I can..." lists. Is a box empty? Tell your teacher. Practice at home with online lessons 1.1, 1.2 and 1.3 and the 📶 buttons.

Verb Patterns & Modality

Small words, big differences. I stopped to buy coffee and I stopped buying coffee mean opposite things. They must have left and They might have left show how sure you are. I used to..., I'm used to... and I'm getting used to... describe the past, the present and change. In this module you'll learn to choose exactly the one you mean.

Lessons 2.1-2.3

Level B2

Name: _____

ICONS

 Write ·  Listen ·  Say ·  Work with a partner ·  Read

When a task is about your life, it's your choice what to share. You can talk about your real life, or use a new identity card, or invent something. All are equally good. You can always say "Pass."

NEW WORDS — HABITS, GOALS AND FEELINGS ABOUT ACTIVITIES

cooking.

We decided to go hiking.

I'm learning to play the guitar.

I've stopped swimming.

consider = think about doing · can't afford = don't have enough money or time · manage = succeed in doing something difficult · refuse = say no to doing · can't stand = hate · look forward to = feel happy about something in the future · be committed to = be seriously dedicated to

Useful phrases for talking about yourself:

I really enjoy...ing

I've stopped...ing

I keep...ing

I can't stand...ing

I'm hoping to...

I'm saving up to...

I'm good at...ing

I'm looking forward to...ing

GRAMMAR BOX

verb + -ing	enjoy, avoid, finish, mind, suggest, imagine, consider, keep, practice, miss, can't stand	I don't mind waiting.
verb + to	want, decide, hope, promise, agree, offer, refuse, manage, learn, seem, afford	We can't afford to wait.
preposition + -ing	good at, interested in, tired of, instead of, before, after, without, look forward to	He left without saying goodbye.
-ing as subject	the activity is the subject	Learning a language takes time.
adjective + to	happy, difficult, easy, ready, surprised	It's difficult to explain.
purpose	to + verb (not for + -ing)	I went out to buy milk.
verb + person + to	want, ask, tell, advise, allow, encourage	She encouraged him to apply.
no "to"	after modals and let / make + person	Let me help. · They made him wait.

Is to a preposition? Try a noun after it. "I'm looking forward to the weekend" works, so use -ing: "looking forward to seeing you."

Same verb, different meaning: -ing looks back (a memory, the activity itself). to looks forward (a duty, a purpose, an attempt).

	+ -ing	+ to remember	I remember locking the door. (a memory)	Remember to lock the door. (a duty)
forget	I'll never forget meeting her. (a memory)	Don't forget to call me. (a duty)

NEW WORDS — THINKING LIKE A DETECTIVE evidence = the facts you can see · a clue = one small piece of evidence · a deduction = a confident guess from evidence · a verdict = your final decision · rule out = decide something is not possible · in hindsight = looking back, now that you know more · in a hurry = very quickly, with no time

Detective phrases:

It must have been...

Someone must have...

They can't have...

That couldn't have...

She might have...

He could have...

You should have...

I shouldn't have...

Are you sure?

That rules out...

GRAMMAR BOX

Every past deduction: modal + have + past participle. The modal never changes. have never becomes has or had.

~95% sure it happened	must have + pp	The ground's wet. It must have rained.
possible (~50%)	might / may / could have + pp	She might have missed the bus.
possibly not	might not / may not have + pp	Ben may not have gone. He was sick.
~95% sure it didn't	can't / couldn't have + pp	He can't have finished already.

✗ She ~~mustn't~~ have seen us. → ✓ She can't have seen us. · ✗ ~~must of / could of / should of~~ → ✓ must have

Now	He must be tired. · She can't know .
Past	He must have been tired. · She can't have known .

Judging past choices:

should have + pp	the right thing, but it didn't happen	You should have called me.
shouldn't have + pp	the wrong thing, but it happened	I shouldn't have eaten that.
could have + pp ①	a possibility	Where's Sam? He could have gone home.

could have + pp ②	a missed chance	I could have gone to the concert, but I stayed home.

6. Your roommate knew the water would be off today and didn't tell you. → _____

🔹 🗣️ EXERCISE 5 – LISTEN TO THREE PUZZLES. WHAT HAPPENED?

Your teacher reads three short puzzles. For each one, write one must have sentence and one can't have or might have sentence.

Puzzle 1 (Ana's kitchen): _____

Puzzle 2 (Ben's desk): _____

Puzzle 3 (the empty classroom): _____

🔹 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – THE OFFICE CAKE MYSTERY

Mia: Look, the cake's gone from the fridge, and there are crumbs all over Dan's desk. He must have eaten it.

Theo: Hold on. Dan left at four for the dentist. He can't have taken it. He wasn't even here at snack time.

Mia: Good point. So someone else might have left those crumbs. Who was here after four?

Theo: Only Priya. And her coffee mug's still warm, so she could have been here five minutes ago.

Mia: But wait, Priya's allergic to chocolate. She couldn't have eaten a whole chocolate cake.

Theo: True. Honestly, we shouldn't have left it in a shared fridge. You should have put your name on it.

Mia: ...The cleaner! He comes at four-thirty. He must have thought it was leftovers and thrown it out. Case closed.

✏️ Find one deduction that says "sure yes," one that says "sure no" and one should have judgment. Underline the past participles.

🔹 🗣️ SPEAKING – THE MYSTERY OF ROOM 12 (DETECTIVE NOTES)

🗣️ Read your clues aloud. Don't show your card. Listen to your group and take notes. Then agree on a verdict.

Clue	Deduction (modal + have + pp)	How sure?
the coffee is still warm	They can't have left long ago.	95% ✗

 Our verdict: We're almost sure that _____. They can't have _____ . They might have _____. They should have _____ .

 SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

C) I could of reminded you.

3

Which sentence is correct?

A) She mustn't have seen us.

B) She can't have seen us.

C) She can't has seen us.

 I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ say what must have, might have or can't have happened, from clues
- ◆ ☐ show how sure I am with the right modal
- ◆ ☐ avoid "mustn't have" and "could of"
- ◆ ☐ judge past choices with should have and shouldn't have
- ◆ ☐ use could have for a possibility and for a missed chance
- ◆ ☐ reason with a group and give a verdict

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Grace: So, how's the new job at the warehouse going?

Luis: Good, but it's a big change. I used to work in an office, so I used to sit all day. Now I'm on my feet for eight hours!

Grace: Wow. Are you used to it yet?

Luis: I'm getting used to it. My legs hurt the first week, but now it's fine. The hardest part is the early start. I'm still not used to getting up at four-thirty.

Grace: You'll get used to it. When I started at the bakery, I couldn't get used to going to bed at eight. Now I don't even need an alarm.

Luis: Really? Did you use to be a night owl?

Grace: Totally! I used to stay up until one every night. Now I'm used to being in bed before the news starts.

Luis: That gives me hope. Oh, and they gave us scanners with a new app. It takes some getting used to.

Grace: Give it a month. You'll be so used to it, you'll forget how the old way worked.

 Sort every used to in the dialogue: past (gone) · now (familiar) · changing (adapting).

 SPEAKING – ADJUSTING TO SOMETHING NEW

Choose a change: a new job · a new schedule or shift · new technology (a phone, an app, self-checkout) · a new neighborhood across town · a new hobby. It can be from your life, a change card, your new identity card, or invented.

How things used to be (×2)	I used to... · I didn't use to...
What's normal now (×2)	I'm used to... · I'm not used to... yet
Still adapting (×1)	I'm getting used to... · I still can't get used to...
My advice (×1)	You'll get used to... · It took me... to get used to...

 Talk for about two minutes. Listeners ask one question each and give one piece of advice.

  I CAN...

-  ☐ talk about past habits with used to and didn't use to
-  ☐ say what's normal for me with be used to + noun / -ing
-  ☐ describe adapting with get used to + noun / -ing
-  ☐ use the "it" test to choose the base verb or -ing
-  ☐ talk about adjusting to something new and give advice

  MY NEW WORDS

  MY JOURNAL (2 SENTENCES)

Write about a change (real or invented): one thing you're used to now, and one thing you're still getting used to. Check: is there a noun or -ing after to?

Advanced Structures

Three ways to say more with less. Shift the focus with the passive, and report what people believe in the calm voice of the news. Cut long sentences down to tight, elegant ones. And report other people's words with the one verb that says exactly what they were doing: she refused, he admitted, they suggested.

Lessons 3.1-3.3

Classes C7-C9

Level B2

Name: _____

ICONS

 Write ·  Listen ·  Say ·  Work with a partner ·  Read

When a task is about your life, you decide what to share. Use your real life, or a new identity card, or something you invent. All three are equally good. In role-plays you play the card, not yourself, and you can always say "Pass."

NEW WORDS — THE LANGUAGE OF THE NEWS

a bulletin a headline a rumor a claim to confirm according to... reportedly widely (believed) a record to be expected to...

Useful phrases for formal reporting:

It is widely believed that... It is generally accepted that... It has been reported that...
... is thought to be... ... is said to have... ... is expected to...

Services: somebody else does the job for you.

have my car repaired

have a key cut get my shoes repaired

have my passport renewed

GRAMMAR BOX

The passive in any tense: change only be. The past participle never changes.

Present simple / continuous	It is done . · It is being done .
Past simple / continuous	It was done . · It was being done .
Present / past perfect	It has been done . · It had been done .
Future	It will be done . · It is going to be done .
Modal	It must / can / should be done .
Modal perfect	It should / might / must have been done .

Impersonal reporting passives: report what people believe without saying who. Verbs: say, think, believe, know, report, expect, consider, understand.

Active	People say (that) he is very rich.
Pattern A	It is said that he is very rich.
Pattern B	He is said to be very rich.

In Pattern B, the infinitive shows the timing:

Same time	to be / to do	He is thought to be rich.
In progress now	to be + -ing	She is thought to be living in Florida.
Earlier	to have + past participle	He is thought to have left the country.

The causative: have / get + object + past participle = someone else does it for you.

✓ I had my car repaired. (a mechanic did it) · ✗ I had repaired my car. (= I repaired it myself, earlier)

🔹 🗣 EXERCISE 1 – LISTEN TO THE RADIO BULLETIN. COMPLETE THE PASSIVES.

Your teacher reads the three o'clock news from Riverside Community Radio. Write the missing words.

 DIALOGUE – IN THE NEWSROOM

Editor: OK, what have we got for the four o'clock news?

Reporter: A giant pumpkin at the county fair. Everyone's saying it weighs about a thousand pounds.

Editor: Nice. How would you say that on air?

Reporter: "The pumpkin is thought to weigh about a thousand pounds." Or "It is thought that..."

Editor: Good. Do we know who grew it?

Reporter: Yes, it was grown by Mrs. Olsen, a retired teacher. People say she fed it milk every day.

Editor: That's a rumor, so be careful. Say: "She is said to have fed it milk every day."

Reporter: "To have fed," because the feeding happened before. Got it. It'll be weighed on Saturday, and a new state record is expected.

Editor: Perfect. Anything else?

Reporter: Only that I'd love to have it made into pies.

Editor: Ha! Let's keep that out of the bulletin.

 Underline every passive. Circle the one causative. Which sentence is a rumor, and which are facts?

 SPEAKING — NEWS REPORT REWRITE

 Warm up: rewrite it formally. Turn each chatty line into news English.

1. "Everyone says the new bakery uses a 100-year-old recipe." → _____
2. "People think the owner learned to bake in Italy." → _____
3. "They're going to open it next Monday." → _____
4. "They expect long lines on the first day." → _____

 In class: you and your partner get one story. A has the rumors; B has the official facts. Tell each other your half (don't show the card), then write a six-sentence bulletin and read it on air, one sentence each.

concise = saying everything that matters in as few words as possible · a dangling participle = a participle clause with the wrong subject (a common writing mistake)

GRAMMAR BOX

	Defining	Non-defining
Job	says which one	adds extra information
Commas?	no	yes
that?	OK	never
Example	The woman who lives next door is a doctor.	My sister, who lives next door, is a doctor.

Reduce a defining clause. Ask: does the noun do the action, or receive it?

Does it → -ing	The man who is standing there · The train that leaves leaving at noon
Receives it → past participle	The letter which was written by John · Products that are made locally

Join two sentences with a participle clause. The subject must be the same in both parts.

Time	Walking home, I saw an accident.
Reason	Feeling tired, he went to bed. · Made of glass, it breaks easily.
Negative	Not knowing the way, we got lost.
Earlier action	Having finished work, she went home.

Don't reduce one finished past action (the man who called me yesterday), and keep non-defining clauses full in careful writing.

EXERCISE 1 — LISTEN TO THE OLD TOWN AUDIO TOUR. CIRCLE WHAT YOU HEAR.

- (Built / Building) in 1890, Riverside Station is the oldest building in town.
- The man (standing / stood) by the clock is Albert, our volunteer guide.

3. (Locating / Located) just behind the station, the market has been open every Sunday for a hundred years.
4. On Hill Street you'll see houses (painting / painted) in pale blue and pink.
5. (Having climbed / Climbed) to the top of the hill, most visitors stop for a rest.
6. From there you can see the stalls (selling / sold) fresh bread and flowers.
7. (Surrounding / Surrounded) by trees, the little park is perfect for a picnic.

EXERCISE 2 – REDUCE THE RELATIVE CLAUSE

Active → -ing. Passive → past participle.

1. The people who are waiting outside look cold. → _____
2. The email which was sent yesterday never arrived. → _____
3. Any student who fails the test can retake it. → _____
4. The paintings that were stolen in 2004 were finally found. → _____
5. The road that connects the two towns is closed. → _____
6. The man who is repairing our roof is from Ohio. → _____
7. Houses that were built before 1950 often need new windows. → _____

EXERCISE 3 – COMBINE WITH A PARTICIPLE CLAUSE

Join each pair into one sentence. The clue in brackets tells you the meaning.

1. She didn't feel well. She stayed at home. (reason) → _____
2. He was driving to work. He heard the news on the radio. (time) → _____
3. They had finished dinner. They went for a walk. (sequence) → _____
4. I didn't know his number. I couldn't call him. (reason, negative) → _____
5. The museum is located in the old town hall. It is open every day. (description) → _____
6. She had read the report. She called the team. (sequence) → _____

EXERCISE 4 – DANGLER DOCTOR. FIX THE SUBJECT.

Who is doing the -ing action? Rewrite each sentence so it makes sense.

1. Looking out of the window, the mountains were beautiful. → _____
2. Having eaten too much, the meal made me sleepy. → _____
3. Running for the bus, my bag fell open. → _____
4. Opening the fridge, the milk smelled terrible. → _____
5. Tired after work, the sofa looked very inviting. → _____

 EXERCISE 5 – REDUCE IT, OR KEEP IT?

Write ✓ and the reduced sentence, or ✗ and why not.

1. The people who work in this office are very friendly. _____
2. The man who fixed my sink yesterday was very fast. _____
3. The cake that was made by my neighbor won first prize. _____
4. My brother, who lives in Houston, is visiting next week. _____
5. The movie that we watched last night was boring. _____
6. Passengers who are traveling with children may board first. _____

 DIALOGUE – EDITING THE NEWSLETTER

Nora: Can you look at my notice for the building newsletter? The limit is fifty words and I've got eighty.

Ben: Sure. "The yard sale that is being organized by the tenants' committee will be held on Saturday." Cut it: "The yard sale organized by the tenants' committee..."

Nora: Nice. What about "People who want to sell things should bring their own table"?

Ben: "Anyone wanting to sell things should bring a table." Shorter, and it sounds more like a notice.

Nora: And here: "I finished the draft and then I sent it to Maria."

Ben: "Having finished the draft, I sent it to Maria." Just don't write "Having finished the draft, Maria got an email."

Nora: Ha! Then Maria finished it. OK, last one: "Mrs. Cruz, who lives in 3B, is bringing lemonade."

Ben: Keep that. It's extra information with commas, and it reads better in full.

Nora: Forty-eight words. Done!

 Find two reduced clauses and one participle clause. Which clause did Ben decide not to reduce, and why?

 SPEAKING – SENTENCE COMPRESSION WORKSHOP

 Round 1, strips: join each set of short sentences into one. Say it first, then write it.

 Round 2, the Editor's Desk: your group gets a wordy draft (about 100 words). Cut it to 60 words or fewer. Every fact must stay. Use at least 4 participle clauses. No dangles!

Our draft: ☐ A notice · ☐ B museum label · ☐ C mini-biography · ☐ D apartment ad Words: _____

 Round 3: read your version to the class. Vote for the clearest version, not the shortest.

 Spot the Difference: describe your scene to a partner with reduced clauses ("a man wearing a red cap standing at the bus stop"). Find five differences.

1

Reduce: "The report which was prepared by the committee is on your desk."

A) The report preparing by the committee is on your desk.

B) The report was prepared by the committee is on your desk.

C) The report prepared by the committee is on your desk.

Which sentence has a dangling participle (the wrong subject)?

A) Feeling nervous, she took a deep breath.

B) Sleeping deeply, the alarm didn't wake me.

C) Having finished, we left the room quietly.

Which sentence is correct?

A) The books selling here are second-hand.

B) The books sold here are second-hand.

C) The books were sold here are second-hand.

  I CAN...

-  ☐ tell defining and non-defining clauses apart
-  ☐ reduce a clause: the man standing there · the letter written by John
-  ☐ join ideas for time, reason and sequence: Feeling tired... · Having finished...
-  ☐ find and fix a dangling participle
-  ☐ cut a wordy text down without losing any facts

◆ 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – A DIFFICULT MONDAY

Dana: I'm really sorry. I forgot to send the report yesterday.

Marco: That's the second time. You said you'd have it ready.

Dana: I know. I'll finish it tonight, I give you my word.

Marco: Why don't you set a reminder on your phone?

Dana: Good idea. And I'll email the client to explain. No, I insist, let me handle it.

Marco: Fine. But don't miss the Friday deadline, whatever happens.

✎ Report the conversation in six sentences, one precise verb per line. Start: Dana apologized for...

◆ 🗣️ SPEAKING – THE MEETING & THE MINUTES

🗣️ The meeting: your group gets a situation and role cards. Play your card, not yourself. Make your three moves naturally. The chair opens, keeps turns fair and closes with a decision.

 The minutes: no said or told. Use at least six different reporting verbs.

Meeting	_____ Date: _____
Present
Who?	Verb + pattern	What they did
Decision	It was agreed that...

 Swap minutes with a partner. Tick every correct pattern. Circle any "suggested me to."

NEW WORDS — EVERYDAY TRADE-OFFS

 working from home: no commute	 but the daily isolating commute can feel	 time lost, but a clear lower cost of living in the country	 but few jobs, social media: stay in touch, but easy to get
---	--	--	--

a trade-off

an advantage / a drawback to weigh up both sides to pivot (to the other side)

a balanced conclusion

a linker / a connector

a clause (subject + verb)

GRAMMAR BOX

The key question: what comes after the linker? A clause, a noun / -ing form, or a new sentence?

Contrast + clause	although · though · even though · whereas · while	Although it was raining, we went out. · He likes tea, whereas she prefers coffee.
Contrast + noun / -ing	despite · in spite of (+ the fact that + clause)	Despite the rain, we went out. · In spite of being tired, she finished.
Contrast: new sentence	However, · Nevertheless, · On the other hand,	It was expensive. However , we bought it.
Cause + clause	because · since · as	We stayed in because it was raining. · Since you're here, let's start.
Cause + noun	because of · due to · owing to (more formal)	The match was canceled due to bad weather.
Result	so + clause · so + adj / adv + that · such + (a / an) + noun + that	It was so cold that the lake froze. · It was such a good movie that I watched it twice.
Result: new sentence	Therefore, · Consequently, · As a result,	Sales fell. Therefore , the shop closed.
Purpose	so as to · in order to + base verb	She left early in order to catch the train.

 Punctuation: It was late. However, we stayed. · It was late; however, we stayed. · Although it was late, we stayed.

 Register: so, but, that's why in a chat · therefore, consequently, nevertheless, whereas in a talk or in writing.

 EXERCISE 1 – CITY OR COUNTRYSIDE?

a) Listen to the mini-talk. Does the speaker prefer the city or the countryside?

b) Listen again. Write the missing linker. Then write C (contrast), Ca (cause) or R (result).

A lot of people love the city (1) _____ there's always something to do, and (2) _____ public transportation is everywhere, you don't really need a car. (3) _____, city life has a price. Rents are (4) _____ high that many young people share an apartment well into their thirties. In the countryside, life is slower and cheaper, (5) _____ in the city everything moves fast. (6) _____ the lower cost of living, people often leave rural areas (7) _____ the lack of jobs. My cousin moved back to her village last year. It was (8) _____ a peaceful place that she started sleeping better within a week. (9) _____ she earns less, she says she's happier. (10) _____, I'd say the right choice depends on the stage of life you're in.

C / Ca / R: 1 _____ · 2 _____ · 3 _____ · 4 _____ · 5 _____ · 6 _____ · 7 _____ · 8 _____ · 9 _____ · 10 _____

 EXERCISE 2 – CIRCLE THE LINKER THAT FITS THE GRAMMAR

1. (Although / Despite) the long wait, the customers stayed calm.
2. (Although / Despite) the wait was long, the customers stayed calm.
3. The train was delayed (because / because of) a signal problem.
4. The train was delayed (because / because of) the signals weren't working.

3. However the job was hard, she loved it. → _____
4. Although the prices are low, but the quality is poor. → _____
5. It was so a good book that I read it in one night. → _____

◆ 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Ana: You moved to the countryside, right? Do you miss the city?

Jon: A bit. It's much quieter here, whereas the city never sleeps.

Ana: But you're happy?

Jon: Very. Despite the longer drive to work, life feels calmer. And the rent is so cheap that we could afford a garden.

Ana: Nice. I couldn't do it, though. I'd get bored.

Jon: Fair enough. Since you love going out at night, you'd probably hate it. So you should stay where you are!

◆ 🗣️ SPEAKING – THE ARGUMENT BUILDER

🗣️ Round 1: argue the side on your cards (FOR or AGAINST). Put a linker card down every time you use it with the right grammar after it.

🗣️ Round 2: give a balanced two-minute mini-talk on a new topic. Plan it here (notes, not full sentences).

My topic

Hook (1 sentence)

GRAMMAR BOX

It-cleft	It + be + spotlight + who / that + the rest	It was Maria who booked the hotel (not me). · It was on Monday that I called.
What-cleft	What + clause + be + key idea (last!)	What I need is a vacation . · What annoys me is the noise .
An action	What + subject + did + was (to) + verb	What he did was (to) ignore me.
Other frames	The thing (that)... is · The reason (why)... is · The place where... is · All (that)... is	The reason I called is to say thank you. · All I want is a quiet weekend.

Negative inversion: a negative word at the start + question word order (auxiliary + subject). It's formal and dramatic: use it like a spice.

Never	I have never seen such a mess. → Never have I seen such a mess.
Not only... but also	Not only did she win, but she also broke the record.
No sooner... than	No sooner had we left than it started to rain.
Hardly / Scarcely... when	Hardly had I sat down when the phone rang.
Rarely / Seldom	Rarely does she complain. (no auxiliary? add do / does / did)
Little · Only then	Little did they know what was coming. · Only then did I understand.

2. No sooner had we arrived when it started to rain. → _____
3. What I need it is a long rest. → _____
4. Rarely she complains about her job. → _____
5. It is Tomás who organized the party last Friday. → _____

◆ 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Kai: So you finally finished the marketing plan? Well done.

Lena: Actually, it was Priya who finished it. I only wrote the introduction.

Kai: Oh! Still, it looks great. What's the next step?

Lena: Honestly? What we really need is more time. Not only did the deadline move, but we also lost two people.

Kai: That's rough.

Lena: Never have I worked on a project with so many changes. But the reason I'm still optimistic is the team. Everyone's pulling together.

◆ 🗣️ SPEAKING – MAKE IT EMPHATIC

🗣️ Set the Record Straight: your partner has the facts wrong. Correct them: "Actually, it was Nadia who organized it. What Sam did was bring the music."

🗣️ My emphatic opinion (60–90 seconds). Choose a prompt card or an everyday topic. Plan it here.

My topic

1. _____ "Moving on to the cost..."
2. _____ "I take your point; however, it would take years."
3. _____ "The bottom line is, we can't afford it."
4. _____ "Arguably, it's the most important factor."
5. _____ "To sum up, the benefits outweigh the risks."
6. _____ "Granted, but we shouldn't forget the staff."
7. _____ "It seems to me that the plan is too ambitious."
8. _____ "What we can't ignore is how tired people are."

EXERCISE 2 — SHOULD WE TRY A FOUR-DAY WEEK?

- a) Listen to the presentation. Number the signposts in the order you hear them (1–6).

_____ Moving on to... _____ To sum up... _____ I'd like to talk about... _____ Finally... _____ I'll cover three points... _____ Let me start with...

b) Listen again. Tick (✓) the B2 structures you hear.

☐ an impersonal passive (It is... believed that...) ☐ a what-cleft ☐ a participle clause (Having...) ☐ a mixed conditional ☐ negative inversion ☐ used to ☐ must have + past participle

c) What objection does Dana raise? How does the speaker answer it?

EXERCISE 3 – REWRITE FOR RANGE

Rewrite each sentence with the B2 structure in brackets.

1. People think online shopping has changed our towns forever. (impersonal passive) → _____

2. We didn't plan ahead, so we have this problem now. (mixed conditional) → _____

3. The cost is the thing that concerns me most. (what-cleft) → _____

4. I looked at the data, and then I reached my conclusion. (participle clause) → _____

5. If we would have started earlier, we would have finished. → _____

EXERCISE 5 – CONCEDE, THEN COUNTER

Answer each challenge. First accept part of it, then disagree with a reason.

1. "Self-checkout machines are faster for everyone." → _____

2. "Children don't need homework at all." → _____

3. "Nobody will use cash in ten years." → _____

DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Rosa: The trouble with cashless shops is that they shut out people who don't have a bank card.

Sam: That's a fair point. Not everyone has one, I won't pretend otherwise. However, the evidence suggests that most customers prefer to pay by card, so shops save time and money.

Rosa: Granted, but we shouldn't forget older customers. My grandmother has always paid in cash.

Sam: I take your point; that's exactly why it matters how it's done. Surely you'd agree that the answer is to help people switch, not to ban cards altogether?

Rosa: Up to a point. What we can't ignore is that some people will always need cash.

◆ PROJECT PART A – MY TWO-MINUTE TALK

Choose a topic card or your own everyday topic. Write notes, not a script. You can argue any side.

① Open: I'd like to talk about / argue that...
② Preview: I'll cover... points
③ Point 1: claim + reason + example
Point 2: claim + reason + example
(Point 3)
④ Close: To sum up...
Two objections I expect + my answer (concede → counter)

 My B2 toolkit: I will use at least one structure from Module 1 ☐ · Module 2 ☐ · Module 3 ☐ · and a linker or emphasis structure from Module 4 ☐

◆ PROJECT PART B – THE GROUP DISCUSSION

You get a side card: For, Against, Devil's advocate or Chair. Argue your card, not your personal opinion.

Our question
My side / role
My 2 points
A concession I'm ready to make

Building on what ___ said, ...

I see where you're coming from, yet...

___, where do you stand on this?

So, to bring it all together...

◆ SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

1

Your partner makes a point that is partly true, but you still disagree. What's the best reply?

A) "No, that's completely wrong."

B) "That's a fair point; however, the bigger picture tells a different story."

C) "Yes, you're totally right. I have nothing to add."

Which sentence uses the B2 grammar correctly?

A) "Not only it reduces costs, but it also improves safety."

B) "It is believe that the plan will work."

C) "Not only does it reduce costs, but it also improves safety."

You've finished your first point and want to start the second. You say:

A) "Moving on to my second point, ..."

B) "To sum up, ..."

C) "I'd like to talk about..."

◆ ☒ I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ open, preview, move between points and close a talk with signposts
- ◆ ☐ support each point with a reason and an example or evidence
- ◆ ☐ answer a challenge by conceding, then countering
- ◆ ☐ hedge a claim I can't fully prove (arguably, to some extent)
- ◆ ☐ take part in a discussion from an assigned side and respond to the last speaker
- ◆ ☐ use structures from Modules 1–4 in a longer talk

◆  MY NEW WORDS

◆  MY JOURNAL (ONE PARAGRAPH + 2 SENTENCES)

Write one paragraph of argued English on any everyday topic. Use three different B2 structures and underline them. Then write two sentences to the learner you were on the first day of this course: what can you do now?

MODULE 4 — WELL DONE! YOU'RE HALFWAY THROUGH B2 🎉

You can link ideas into a clear argument, put the spotlight where you want it, give a signposted talk, and concede and counter in a discussion. Look at your three "I can..." lists. Is a box empty? Tell your teacher. Next class is a friendly check of Modules 1–4. Practice at home with the online lessons 4.1, 4.2 and 4.3 and the 🎧 buttons.

Precision Grammar

Small choices that make your English exact. Place an action precisely on a future timeline: still happening, or already done? Say precisely who did the work: you, or someone you paid? And say precisely how much of a group you mean, with a verb that agrees.

By the time you get here...

In a few years' time...

At 10 a.m. tomorrow, I'll be...

Will you be joining us?

GRAMMAR BOX

Choose a reference point in the future first. Then ask: is the action still happening then, or already finished?

	Future continuous: in progress	Future perfect: already done
Form	will be + -ing	will have + past participle
At 8 p.m.	We'll be eating dinner. (still at the table)	We'll have eaten dinner. (plates cleared)
This time next year	I'll be studying in Berlin.	I'll have graduated .
Negative / question	We won't be using the room. · Will you be staying long?	He won't have arrived by six. · Will you have eaten ?
Typical markers	this time tomorrow / next week · at + clock time	by · by then · by the time · in + period

Polite inquiries	Will you use the car tonight? → Will you be using the car tonight? (softer: it asks about your plans, not for a decision) by the time	By the time you arrive (present!), we'll have left . ❌ By the time you will arrive...
by vs until	I'll have finished by six. (= no later than six) · I'll be working until six. (= all the time up to six) ❌ I'll have finished until six.

4. Don't call at 8 — we'll have watched the game. (The game starts at 7 and ends at 9.) → _____
5. This time next week, I'll be lie on a beach. → _____

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Joe: So, Nina, where do you see yourself this time next year?

Nina: Well, I'll have finished my training by then, so I'll probably be working at the new clinic downtown.

Joe: Nice. And by the time you start, will you have moved into the city?

Nina: I hope so. By September we'll have signed the lease, and by winter we'll be settling into the new place.

Joe: It sounds like this time next year you'll be looking back on a huge year — and you'll have earned the rest.

 Underline the future continuous in one color and the future perfect in another. What is the reference point in each sentence? Write two: _____

 SPEAKING – PROJECT TIMELINE

Choose a project card (a community center, a food co-op, a bike-share launch...) or a character card. In your group, plan the timeline in key words. Then present it to another group, who ask you questions: "Will you be hiring local people?" · "Will you have finished the parking lot by opening day?"

When?	What will be happening? (will be + - ing)	What will already be done? (will have + p.p.)

6. I'll have the front desk _____ (send) you a copy.

 DIALOGUE — READ WITH A PARTNER

A: Your car looks brand new! Did you clean it yourself?

B: No way. I had it detailed at that new place. And I finally got the dent fixed too.

A: Nice. I really need to get mine serviced. The warning light's been on for weeks.

B: You should have it checked soon. My neighbor ignored hers and ended up having the whole engine rebuilt.

A: Ouch. OK, I'll make an appointment. While I'm at it, I might have the tires replaced as well.

 Underline every causative. Which one uses get to mean "finally managed"?

 SPEAKING – ERRAND WEEK AND SERVICES & ERRANDS

 Errand Week: A has Sam's to-do list; B has his receipts and texts. Find out what he did himself, what he had done, what went wrong, and what he still needs to get done.

 Services & Errands: you are the customer or the service provider (auto shop, building manager, hair salon, print shop...). Customer: arrange two things, ask when they'll be ready ("Will you have finished by Friday?"), and ask one polite question ("Will you be calling me?").

 My services (real, a character, or invented):

I had done recently	I have done regularly	I'm going to have done soon
I had my phone screen replaced.

One thing I do myself: _____

Adverb	-ly	quickly · easily · carefully (-ful has one l, -fully has two)

Verb	-ize · -en · -ify	modernize · widen · simplify
------	-------------------	------------------------------

Prefixes change the meaning, not the job:

Negative	un- · in- · im- (before m, p) · il- (before l) · ir- (before r) · dis- · non-	unfair · incorrect · impossible · illegal · irregular · dishonest · non-smoker
Other	re- again · over- too much · under- too little · mis- wrongly · pre- before	rewrite · overwork · underpaid · misunderstand · preview

⚠ Careful: invaluable = extremely valuable (not "worthless"). flammable = inflammable. Don't invent words: there is no "beautiless."

To fill a gap: (1) What job does the slot need? (2) Build the form, and check: positive or negative? singular or plural?

💡 WHERE'S THE STRESS? LISTEN AND UNDERLINE THE STRONG SYLLABLE.

1. photograph · photography · photographic · photographer
2. economy · economic · economist
3. create · creation · creative · creativity
4. educate · education
5. compete · competition · competitive
6. decide · decision · decisive

What happens to the stress before -tion, -ic and -ity? _____

💡 EXERCISE 1 – THE WORD FAMILY GRID

Work with a partner. You have card A or B. Ask, answer and spell: "What's the adjective from rely?" "Reliable: R-E-L-I-A-B-L-E." Then agree on the negative together. Some cells have no word: write —.

Base	Noun	Verb	Adjective	Adverb	Negative decide succeed create * strong compete rely care attract employ * responsible

* These families have more than one noun. What's the difference? _____

EXERCISE 2 – FORM THE CORRECT WORD

Change the word in CAPITALS so it fits the gap.

1. The new bridge was a huge _____ (SUCCESS).
2. She is one of the most _____ (CREATE) people I know.
3. He explained the plan very _____ (CLEAR).
4. They need to _____ (STRONG) the team before the final.
5. Unfortunately, the first attempt was a complete _____ (FAIL).
6. The instructions were full of useful _____ (INFORM).
7. Thank you. Your advice was really _____ (HELP).
8. The city plans to _____ (MODERN) the old train station.

EXERCISE 3 – ADD THE RIGHT NEGATIVE PREFIX

Write un-, in-, im-, il-, ir-, dis- or non-.

1. It's simply _____ possible to finish it by Friday.
2. Parking here is _____ legal: you'll get a ticket.
3. I completely _____ agree with that decision.
4. His handwriting is almost _____ readable.
5. Leaving the kids alone was totally _____ responsible.
6. The answer he gave was clearly _____ correct.
7. She's a _____ -smoker, so she's happy about the new rule.
8. The bus was late again. It's so _____ reliable!

EXERCISE 4 – OTHER PREFIXES: RE-, OVER-, UNDER-, MIS-, PRE-

1. I _____ understood the time and arrived an hour early.
2. The chicken was _____ cooked: still pink inside.
3. My first draft was messy, so I had to _____ write the report.
4. Many nurses are _____ worked and very tired.

5. Let's watch the _____ view of the movie before we buy tickets.

6. He _____ spelled my name on the certificate.

7. Some workers are _____ paid for the hours they do.

 EXERCISE 5 – A COMEBACK STORY. COMPLETE IT WITH THE RIGHT FORM.

Last spring, Rosa and Sam opened a taco truck. Despite careful (1) _____ (PREPARE), the first month was a complete (2) _____ (FAIL). Customers found the menu (3) _____ (CONFUSE), and the prices were (4) _____ (REASON): far too high. The team felt (5) _____ (DISAPPOINT), but they acted (6) _____ (DECIDE). They made several key (7) _____ (IMPROVE): a shorter menu and lower prices. Then they waited (8) _____ (PATIENT). Today the truck is a real (9) _____ (SUCCEED), and they have three (10) _____ (EMPLOY).

 Label each answer: N, V, ADJ or ADV.

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Tutor: Your essay is strong, but look at this line: "The city should modern the railroads."

Student: Oh, that slot needs a verb, doesn't it? So... modernize the railroads.

Tutor: Exactly. And here you wrote "a decide leader." What job does that slot need?

Student: It's before a noun, so an adjective: a decisive leader. And if I meant the opposite, indecisive.

Tutor: Perfect. One more: "The project was a success, and we finished it success."

Student: That describes how we finished, so it's an adverb: successfully.

Tutor: You didn't learn any new words today. You just reshaped the ones you already had.

 Find two more sentences in your own writing (or a text from class) and "reshape" one word in each.

 SPEAKING – THE COMEBACK STORY

 Tell a short story (about 1 minute) about something that went wrong and then went right: a scenario card, a light real story, or something imagined. Use at least six forms from the word families. Your group marks the forms they hear on their bingo grid.

 My six forms (write key words only, not full sentences):

What went wrong?
What did they / I do?
How did it end?
My six forms

 My word family map (homework): six bases that are useful for you. Mark the stress.

Base	Noun	Verb	Adjective	Adverb	Negative

not nearly as good as...

nowhere near as...

twice as expensive as...

the same as...

the more..., the better

getting better and better

So overall, I'd recommend...

GRAMMAR BOX

How big is the difference? Put a word in front of the comparative:

Big difference	far / much / a lot / considerably / significantly + comparative	This laptop is far more powerful than my old one.
Small difference	slightly / a bit / a little / marginally + comparative	The blue jacket is slightly cheaper.
Much less	not nearly as / nowhere near as + adjective + as	The movie was nowhere near as good as the book.
Almost as	not quite as + adjective + as	The bus isn't quite as fast as the train.

✗ very cheaper · very more expensive → ✓ much cheaper · far more expensive (very only with a plain adjective: very expensive)

Equal	as + adjective / adverb + as	He works as hard as anyone.
Multiples	twice / three times / half as... as	Their house is three times as big as ours.
Same / similar	the same as · similar to · different from	Your phone is the same as mine.
Than or as?	-er / more / less → than · as / the same → as	bigger than · as big as

Two changes together	The + comparative..., the + comparative...	The more you practice, the better you get. · The sooner, the better.
A trend	comparative and comparative · more and more + long adjective	Her English is getting better and better. · Rent is getting more and more expensive.
Actions	more quickly · more carefully · faster · harder · better	She types more quickly than I do. (never "more faster")

✦ ✎ EXERCISE 1 – COMPLETE THE COMPARISON

1. This phone is much _____ (cheap) than the other one.
2. She isn't _____ tall as her sister.
3. The train is twice _____ fast as the bus.
4. My new job pays the same _____ my old one.
5. The weather is getting warmer and _____.
6. This exercise is a bit _____ (hard) than the last one.
7. The new version is similar _____ the old one, but it's different _____ the first.
8. Please drive _____ (careful). The roads are icy.

✦ ✎ EXERCISE 2 – THE MORE..., THE MORE...

Remember: two "the"s and two comparatives.

1. The more you read, _____ you learn.
2. _____ (hard) you work, the luckier you get.
3. The sooner we start, the _____ (good).
4. The older he gets, the _____ he worries.
5. The _____ (big) the crowd, the more nervous she felt.
6. The earlier we leave, the _____ traffic we'll hit.

🗣️ Now finish these about your life (or your identity card): The more I... · The less I... · The earlier I...

✦ 🗣️ EXERCISE 3 – HOW BIG IS THE DIFFERENCE?

Listen to six sentences. Circle the size of the difference.

1	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal
2	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal
3	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal

4	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal
5	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal
6	big · small · much less · almost the same · equal

 Which word told you the answer? Write it next to each line.

 EXERCISE 4 – REWRITE IT

1. The new model is better than the old one. (add a strong intensifier) → _____
2. The blue jacket is a little cheaper than the black one. (use slightly) → _____
3. When you sleep more, you feel better. (use the more..., the better) → _____

3. He runs more faster than his brother. → _____
4. Millbrook is smaller as Riverton. → _____
5. More you try, better it gets. → _____
6. The Kestrel is twice more expensive as the Nova. → _____

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

A: So, which route do you recommend: the highway or the coast road?

B: The highway is far quicker, but honestly, it's nowhere near as pretty. The coast road is twice as long, though.

A: Hmm. The earlier we leave, the less traffic we'll hit, right?

B: Exactly. And the coast road gets more and more beautiful the farther south you go. It's slightly slower, but I think it's worth it.

A: And gas? Doesn't the long way cost a lot more?

B: Only a little more. It's not quite as cheap, but it's the same car, the same trip, and a much better view.

A: OK, you've convinced me. Let's take the coast road. The earlier we set off, the better!

 Underline every comparison. How many different structures can you find? _____

 SPEAKING – COMPARE & RECOMMEND

 You and your partner have facts about two different options (two phones, two jobs, or two towns). Don't show your sheet: tell your partner, compare, then read a client card and agree on a recommendation. End with: "So overall, I'd recommend... because..."

 Tick each structure when you use it:

☐ far / much / considerably + comparative	☐ slightly / a bit + comparative
☐ not nearly / nowhere near as... as	☐ twice / three times / half as... as
☐ the more..., the more...	☐ more and more / better and better

 My recommendation (homework, 6–8 sentences): _____

Which sentence is correct?

A) This one is very more expensive.

B) This one is far more expensive.

C) This one is more expensive as that.

2

Complete: "___ you practice, the more confident you become."

A) The more

B) More

C) The much

3

NEW WORDS — AT THE FRONT DESK

the front desk / reception an inquiry : a question to a business a membership : you pay to join availability : free times or places to confirm : to check it's true an opener : Could you tell me...?

Openers, from casual to careful:

Do you know...?

Could you tell me...?

Do you have any idea...?

Would you mind telling me...?

I was wondering if...

I'd like to know...

GRAMMAR BOX

Indirect questions: opener + statement word order. No do / does / did.

Direct	Indirect
Where is the station?	Could you tell me where the station is ?
What time does it open?	Do you know what time it opens ?
How much did it cost?	Could you tell me how much it cost ?
Are they open on Sundays?	Do you know if they're open on Sundays?
Does the bus stop here?	I was wondering whether the bus stops here.

or not: whether or not they're open · if they're open or not (not "if or not")

Negative questions show what you already think or feel:

Agree with me!	Isn't it beautiful? ↘
I'm surprised	Didn't you get my message? ↗
I think so: check	Isn't the office closed on Mondays? ↗
Suggest / persuade	Don't you think we should wait? ↘ · Wouldn't it be easier to fly? ↘

Answer by the facts: "Didn't you get my message?" I got it → Yes, I did. · I didn't → No, I didn't.

Subject question (no auxiliary)	Object question (do / does / did)
Who saw you? (someone saw you)	Who did you see? (you saw someone)
Who broke the window?	What did she break?
What happened next?	What does this mean?

 Sound polite: start a little higher, use your whole voice, and let an indirect question rise gently at the end ↗. A flat, low voice sounds bored, even with perfect grammar.

 EXERCISE 1 – THE FRONT-DESK CALL

Listen to a phone call to the Riverside Community Center. What does the caller want?

Listen again. Write the six questions the caller asks (the part after the opener is enough).

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

 EXERCISE 2 – MAKE IT INDIRECT. COMPLETE THE GAP.

1. "Where is the museum?" → Could you tell me where the museum _____?
2. "What time does it open?" → Do you know what time it _____?
3. "How much did it cost?" → Could you tell me how much it _____?
4. "Are they open today?" → Do you know _____ they are open today?
5. "Does the bus stop here?" → I was wondering _____ the bus stops here.
6. "Why did she leave?" → Do you have any idea why she _____?

 EXERCISE 3 – REWRITE AS POLITE QUESTIONS. USE THE OPENER.

1. "Where is the nearest bank?" (Could you tell me...) → _____
2. "What time does the movie start?" (Do you know...) → _____
3. "Is this seat free?" (I was wondering...) → _____
4. "How long does the trip take?" (Would you mind telling me...) → _____
5. "When will my sofa arrive?" (Do you have any idea...) → _____

6. "Do you deliver on weekends?" (Could you tell me... + or not) → _____

 EXERCISE 4 – NEGATIVE QUESTIONS

A. Complete the negative question.

1. _____ you get my email? I sent it yesterday. (surprise, past)
2. _____ this a wonderful view? (admire, present)
3. You want to suggest the train. → _____ easier to take the train?
4. You think the store closes at six. Check it. → _____ at six?

B. Answer by the facts. Use a short answer.

5. "Didn't you lock the door?" (You locked it.) → _____
6. "Haven't you met Sara?" (You haven't met her.) → _____
7. "Isn't the bank open today?" (It's closed.) → _____
8. "Don't you like coffee?" (You love it.) → _____

 Say 1–4 with a partner. Rise ↗ or fall ↘? Your partner answers.

 EXERCISE 5 – SUBJECT OR OBJECT? THE OFFICE MYSTERY

Listen to the story. Then write the question for the bold part.

1. Leo opened the fridge at nine. → _____
2. The team bought a chocolate cake. → _____
3. Something strange happened at twelve. → _____
4. Ms. Tran called her manager. → _____
5. Mr. Obi called a meeting. → _____
6. Who _____ (break) the window? • 7. What _____ (happen) at the meeting?

 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Staff: Good morning, Lakeview Community College. How can I help you?

Caller: Hi. I was wondering if you still had places in the evening computer class.

Staff: Let me check... Yes, we have four places left.

Caller: Great. Could you tell me when the class starts?

Staff: On October sixth, Tuesdays and Thursdays from six to eight.

Caller: And do you know how much it costs?

Staff: It's $180 for ten weeks. Didn't you see the price on our website?

Caller: No, I didn't. I couldn't find it. Would you mind telling me whether I need to take a test first?

Staff: No test for this class. Don't you think it would be easier to register online, though? It only takes five minutes.

Caller: Maybe, but isn't it better to pay in person? I'd like a receipt.

Staff: Of course. You can come in any weekday before five.

 Circle the indirect questions. Underline the negative questions. Mark ↗ or ↘ on each negative question.

 SPEAKING – POLITE ENQUIRY ROLE-PLAY

 Groups of three: A = customer or job candidate, B = staff or interviewer, C = observer. Take a card. Plan with key words only (2 minutes), then play it. In the job interview, the candidate always uses an identity card.

 My planner (key words only):

Situation
6 things I need to know
My yes/no question (if / whether)
My negative question

 Observer checklist: ☐ 6 indirect questions · ☐ statement order · ☐ no do / does / did · ☐ if / whether · ☐ a negative question · ☐ polite voice ↗ · One thing that was great: _____ · One thing to fix: _____

Which indirect question is correct?

A) Could you tell me where does the station is?

B) Could you tell me where is the station?

C) Could you tell me where the station is?

Which is a correct subject question (the question word is the doer)?

A) Who broke the window?

B) Who did broke the window?

C) Who did break the window?

3

"Didn't you get my message?" You did get it. What do you say?

A) "No, I did."

B) "Yes, I did."

C) "Yes, I didn't."

◆ ☒ I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ ask a polite indirect question with statement word order: Could you tell me where it is?
- ◆ ☐ drop do / does / did and use if / whether for yes/no questions
- ◆ ☐ use negative questions to show surprise, agree, check or persuade
- ◆ ☐ answer a negative question by the facts: Yes, I did. / No, I didn't.
- ◆ ☐ ask subject questions with no auxiliary: Who called?
- ◆ ☐ sound polite with my voice as well as my words

◆  MY NEW WORDS

◆  MY JOURNAL (2 SENTENCES)

Write a question you really need to ask this week, first direct, then polite and indirect. Where would you use each one?

 HOMEWORK — MY REAL QUESTIONS

Write four direct questions you might really ask this week (at a store, a station, an office or online). Rewrite each one as an indirect question with a different opener. Then add one negative question and one subject question.

Communicating with Style

Good English isn't only correct; it fits. In this module you'll choose the right voice for a friend, a manager or a company, tell a story that keeps people listening, and make a case that can stand up to a tough question.

Lessons 7.1-7.3

Classes C20-C22

Level B2

Name: _____

ICONS

 Write ·  Listen ·  Say ·  Work with a partner ·  Read

Whenever a task asks about your life, you decide what to share. You can use a real experience, a new identity card, a prompt card, or something you invent. Nobody will ask which. You can always say "Pass."

NEW WORDS — TALKING ABOUT REGISTER

(to a friend): informal / casual an email (to a manager): neutral

a formal letter (to a company): formal register = the level of formality you choose for the reader and the situation · a set phrase = a fixed expression (I look forward to hearing from you) · a contraction = I'm, don't, won't · a sign-off = the closing word before your name (Sincerely,) · an inquiry = a formal question or request for information (UK: enquiry) · a complaint

I am writing to inquire about...

I would be grateful if you could...

I was wondering whether...

Would it be possible to...?

Unfortunately,...

I look forward to hearing from you.

Please do not hesitate to contact me.

GRAMMAR BOX — THE FOUR FEATURES THAT SHIFT

Feature	Informal	Formal
1 Word choice	ask for · get · find out · put off · need · tell · help · but · so	request · obtain / receive · discover · postpone · require · inform · assist · however · therefore
2 Contractions	I'm · haven't · won't	I am · have not · will not
3 Sentences	The heater's broken. It's really cold. Can someone come?	As the heating is no longer working and the apartment has become extremely cold, I would appreciate it if a technician could visit as soon as possible.
4 Set phrases	Hi Sam, · Just wondering... · Can you...? · Let me know. · Thanks!	Dear Mr. Clarke: · I am writing to inquire about... · I would be grateful if you could... · I look forward to hearing from you. · Sincerely,

Polite speech uses distance: Could you...? · Would you mind + -ing? · I was wondering whether I could... · Would it be possible to...? (Contractions are fine when you speak formally.)

The formal email	① Greeting → ② Reason for writing → ③ Detail → ④ Request / action → ⑤ Closing line + sign-off
US sign-off	Sincerely, (or Best regards,) after any greeting. Dear Mr. Clarke: or Dear Mr. Clarke,

⚠ One register per message. Don't open with "Dear Sir or Madam" and close with "Cheers!"

🔹 ✎ EXERCISE 1 – TURN THE DIAL UP. WRITE THE FORMAL WORD.

1. ask for → _____ 2. put off → _____ 3. find out → _____
 4. need → _____ 5. get (a letter) → _____ 6. tell (someone) → _____
 7. help → _____ 8. but → _____ 9. so → _____

🔹 📖 ✎ EXERCISE 2 – INFORMAL, NEUTRAL OR FORMAL? CIRCLE I, N OR F.

1. Gimme a call when you're free. I · N · F
 2. Could you let me know when you have a moment? I · N · F
 3. I would be grateful if you could reply at your earliest convenience. I · N · F
 4. Thanks so much, see you Friday! I · N · F
 5. Unfortunately, the item did not match the description on your website. I · N · F
 6. Just checking: are we still on for lunch? I · N · F
 7. I'm afraid I won't be able to make the meeting on Tuesday. I · N · F
 8. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require further information. I · N · F

🔹 ✎ EXERCISE 3 – COMPLETE THE INQUIRY EMAIL.

Use: grateful · inquire · Sincerely · hearing · available · Dear · Unfortunately · attached

(1) _____ Admissions Team,

I am writing to (2) _____ about the evening first-aid course advertised on your website.

I work full time, so I am only (3) _____ after 6 p.m. (4) _____, the website does not say whether the course runs in the evening in March.

I would be (5) _____ if you could send me the dates and the cost. I have (6) _____ a copy of my current certificate for your reference.

I look forward to (7) _____ from you.

(8) _____,

Daniel Okafor

🔹 🗣️ ✎ EXERCISE 4 – SOFTEN THE REQUEST. YOU'RE SPEAKING TO A MANAGER OR A STRANGER.

Example: "Move my appointment." → I was wondering whether I could move my appointment.

1. "Give me Friday off." → Would it be possible _____

2. "Send me the schedule." → Could you _____
3. "Explain this form to me." → Would you mind _____
4. "I want to leave early today." → I was wondering whether _____
5. "Put me near a window." → Would it be possible _____

 EXERCISE 5 – REWRITE ANA'S TEXT AS AN EMAIL TO HER MANAGER.

 Ana sent this to her friend at work. Now she needs to send the same message to her manager, Mr. Patel. Keep it polite and professional (neutral to formal): a greeting, the reason, the detail, a request, a sign-off. No contractions.

hey!! can't do my sat shift, family stuff 🙄 maria said she'll cover tho. can u tell dan for me? thx!!! – A

 DIALOGUE – TWO VOICES, THE SAME REQUEST

Ana: Hey Sam, got a sec? Any chance you could swap shifts with me on Saturday?

Sam: Yeah, no problem. I'll take your morning, you take my Sunday?

Ana: Deal. You're a lifesaver!

Ana: Excuse me, Mr. Patel. Do you have a moment?

Mr. Patel: Of course, Ana. What can I do for you?

Ana: I was wondering whether it might be possible to swap my Saturday shift with Sam. He's already agreed to cover it.

Mr. Patel: That should be fine. Could you send me a quick email so I can update the schedule?

Ana: Certainly. I'll send it this afternoon. Thank you very much.

 Find three things that make the second conversation more formal: _____

 SPEAKING – REGISTER SWITCH WORKSHOP

Your group gets a situation card. Write the same message three ways. Then read them aloud in any order. Can the class guess the reader?

A • Text to a friend	B • Email to a manager	C • Formal letter to an organization

Checklist for the checker: ☐ word choice ☐ contractions ☐ sentence length ☐ set phrases ☐ one register all the way through

💡 SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

1

You're writing to a British company and you began with "Dear Ms Ford,". Which sign-off follows the British rule?

A) Yours sincerely,

B) Yours faithfully,

C) Cheers,

2

Which sentence is the most appropriate for a formal email?

A) Hi, I just wanna know if you've got any spots left.

B) I am writing to inquire whether any places are still available.

C) Gimme the info when you can, thanks!

3

Which message mixes registers?

A) Hi Jo! Running late, save me a seat?

B) Dear Mr. Lee: I am writing to confirm my appointment on June 4. Sincerely, Mina Cho

C) Dear Ms. Ortiz, I am writing to request a copy of my contract. Thanks a bunch, see ya!

◆  I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ say whether a message is informal, neutral or formal, and why
- ◆ ☐ change word choice, contractions, sentence length and set phrases to move up or down the dial
- ◆ ☐ make a polite spoken request: I was wondering whether...
- ◆ ☐ write a five-part formal email with a matching sign-off
- ◆ ☐ write one message three ways without mixing registers

Open	a hook	You'll never guess what happened to me on the way to work.
Scene	past continuous (+ when + past simple)	I was waiting for the bus when it started to pour.
Backstory	past perfect	I'd just bought a new white jacket.
Build	connectors that control the pace	At first... · Then... · A few minutes later... · Just as I... · All of a sudden... · Before I knew it...
Climax	historic present · direct speech · emphasis	So I'm standing there, absolutely soaked, and this man goes, "Lovely weather!"
Land	an ending phrase, then stop	In the end... · To cut a long story short... · And that's why... · Lesson learned!

☞ In spoken stories, people often say he goes, "...", or she was like, "...", instead of said. Use them only in casual speech.

 Listener reactions: No way! · You're kidding! · Oh no! · Then what? · What did you do? · That's hilarious! · You must have been mortified!

 EXERCISE 1 – ORDER THE ANECDOTE. WRITE 1-6.

- _____ a) All of a sudden, the whole cake slid off the plate and onto the floor.
- _____ b) So last Saturday I was carrying a birthday cake into my sister's party.
- _____ c) To cut a long story short, we ate ice cream instead, and that's why I always use a box now.
- _____ d) The funniest thing happened to me last weekend.
- _____ e) At first, everything was fine. Everyone was singing.
- _____ f) Just as I reached the table, the dog ran between my feet.

 EXERCISE 2 – CIRCLE THE BEST CONNECTOR.

1. At first / Before I knew it, the new job seemed easy.
2. Just as / In the end I sat down to eat, my phone rang.
3. I waited and waited. A few minutes later / Just as, the manager came out.
4. Everything was quiet. All of a sudden / At first, the fire alarm went off.
5. I started chatting to a stranger on the train, and before I knew it / at first, I'd missed my stop.
6. In the end / Just as, everything worked out fine.

 EXERCISE 3 – COMPLETE THE STORY WITH THE RIGHT PAST FORM.

Use the verb in brackets: past continuous, past simple or past perfect.

It (1) _____ (rain) and I (2) _____ (walk) to the train station. I (3) _____ (just / buy) a coffee, so I was holding it carefully. Just as I (4) _____ (get) to the platform, a man (5) _____ (run) up and gave me a huge hug. Coffee went everywhere. Then he (6) _____ (step) back and said, "Oh! You're not Mike!" He (7) _____ (think) I was his best friend. In the end, he bought me a new coffee and we (8) _____ (laugh) about it all the way into town.

 EXERCISE 4 – MAKE IT STRONGER. USE ABSOLUTELY + AN EXTREME ADJECTIVE.

Use: furious · exhausted · starving · terrified · thrilled · freezing

1. I hadn't eaten all day. I was _____
2. I got the job! I was _____
3. It was minus ten outside. It was _____
4. I'd worked a double shift. I was _____
5. The spider was huge. I was _____
6. They canceled my flight without telling me. I was _____

🎧 ✎ EXERCISE 5 – BE A GOOD LISTENER. WRITE A NATURAL REACTION.

1. "So I opened the box, and it was completely empty." → _____
2. "...and then I realized I'd been talking to the wrong person the whole time." → _____
3. "Guess who I bumped into at the airport? My old teacher from elementary school!" → _____
4. "Anyway, that's the story of how I ended up on live TV." → _____

🎧 📖 👤 DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER. PERFORM IT!

Priya: You'll never guess what happened to me on the way to the interview this morning.

Tom: Go on. What happened?

Priya: So I was running a bit late, and I was wearing my best suit. At first everything was fine. Then, just as I was crossing the street, a bus drove straight through a huge puddle.

Tom: Oh no!

Priya: All of a sudden I'm absolutely soaked, head to toe. And this old man just looks at me and goes, "Lovely weather for it!"

Tom: No way! What did you do?

Priya: Well, before I knew it, I was standing in reception, dripping on the floor and trying to smile. I've never been so embarrassed in my life.

Tom: You're kidding! So how did the interview go?

Priya: To cut a long story short, I got the job. And that's why I always carry an umbrella now. Lesson learned!

✎ Find: the hook · one line of scene-setting · the historic present · the direct speech · the ending. Underline them.

🎧 👤 SPEAKING – ANECDOTE CIRCLE: PLAN YOUR STORY (KEY WORDS ONLY!)

A true story, a prompt card, a new identity card, or an invented story: all are welcome.

1 Hook
2 Scene (was ____ing)
3 Events + connectors

4 Climax: "...!" (direct speech)

5 Ending: In the end / And that's why...

 Tell it in 2 minutes.  Listeners: use two reactions and ask one follow-up question at the end.

1

Which phrase best opens a spoken anecdote?

A) In the end, I went home.

B) You'll never guess what happened to me.

C) And that's why I was late.

2

Your friend says, "...and when I looked in my bag, my wallet was gone." What's the most natural reaction?

A) Oh no! What did you do?

B) I see. That is interesting.

C) Anyway, what are you having for lunch?

3

Which sentence sets the scene for a story?

A) In the end, we all went home.

B) No way! That's hilarious!

C) I was waiting for the elevator when the fire alarm went off.

  I CAN...

-  ☐ open a story with a hook and set the scene with the past continuous
-  ☐ use different connectors to control the pace (not "and then... and then...")
-  ☐ bring the big moment alive with direct speech or the historic present

- ◆ ☐ use absolutely + extreme adjectives
- ◆ ☐ land a clear ending and react naturally when someone else tells a story

EXERCISE 1 — COMPLETE THE PRESENTATION PHRASES.

1. Today I'll _____ two main points. (introduce the talk)

2. To _____ with, let's look at the problem. (first point)
3. That _____ me to my second point. (move on)
4. _____, for example, the library in Oakdale. (give an example)
5. The figures _____ that use has doubled. (give evidence)
6. To _____ up, this is the best option we have. (conclude)

 EXERCISE 2 – NAME THE TECHNIQUE.

Write: RQ (rhetorical question) · 3 (tripling) · C (contrast) · A (appeal to the listener) · CC (concede and counter)

1. Who wouldn't want a shorter wait at the clinic? _____
2. It's not a problem; it's an opportunity. _____
3. The garden will be greener, safer and friendlier. _____
4. Of course, no plan is perfect; nevertheless, this is the best option available. _____
5. Imagine walking to your car at night and feeling completely safe. _____
6. We can keep complaining about it, or we can fix it. _____

 EXERCISE 3 – CONCEDE AND COUNTER. MATCH THE HALVES.

1. Admittedly, it will take some time to set up; _____
 2. While it's true that some staff prefer driving, _____
 3. There will probably be a few problems at first; _____
 4. Of course, some families may not use it. _____
 5. I understand that the budget is tight; _____
- a) However, the survey shows that 60% of families would. · b) however, this costs less than one month of repairs. · c) nevertheless, the other centers that tried it solved them within weeks. · d) that said, once it's running, it needs almost no work. · e) at least twelve people already cycle and have nowhere to park.

 EXERCISE 4 – HANDLING QUESTIONS. CIRCLE THE BEST RESPONSE.

1. "How much will this cost per year, exactly?" (You don't know.)
A) About a million, probably. B) That's a good question. I don't have the exact figure, but I'll follow up this week. C) Next question, please.
2. A long, confusing question.
A) If I understand you correctly, you're asking who would manage it? B) I don't understand you. C) Yes.
3. "Isn't this just a waste of money?"
A) No, you're wrong. B) Admittedly, it isn't free. That said, it would save us money on repairs. C) Maybe. I don't know.

4. You've just answered a question.

A) OK, bye. B) So, yeah. C) Does that answer your question?

 DIALOGUE – AFTER THE PITCH

Leila: To sum up, then, a community garden would turn an empty lot into a place that's greener, safer and friendlier. Wouldn't we all rather look at vegetables than trash? Thank you. I'm happy to take questions.

Panelist: Who's actually going to take care of it in the summer, when people are away?

Leila: That's a good question. Admittedly, summer is the hardest time. That said, eighteen families have already signed up, and we'd set up a watering schedule, one week each.

Panelist: And what would it cost the neighborhood?

Leila: I don't have the final figure yet, but the first estimate is under two thousand dollars. I'll send the details to the board this week. Does that answer your question?

Panelist: It does, thank you. I hadn't thought about the schedule.

 Underline Leila's tripling, her rhetorical question, and her concede-counter move.

 SPEAKING – THE PITCH PANEL: TEAM PLANNER (KEY WORDS ONLY)

Our topic: _____

Speaker 1 · Signpost + the problem	Today we'll cover... The problem is...
Speaker 2 · The solution + evidence + a technique	Our proposal is... The main advantage is... Take, for example,...
Speaker 3 · Concede-counter + close + call to action	Admittedly,... That said,... To sum up,... So we're asking you to...
Two questions the panel might ask + our answers

 Pitch: 2 minutes. Then 2 minutes of questions. Start every answer calmly: "That's a good question."

1

Which sentence best concedes and counters an objection?

A) Admittedly, it's expensive; however, it saves money long-term.

B) This is simply the best option, period.

C) Yes, it's expensive, and that's a real problem.

2

Someone asks a question and you're not sure of the answer. What's the most professional response?

A) Make up a confident-sounding figure on the spot.

B) "That's a good question. I don't have the exact figure, but I'll follow up."

C) Ignore it and move straight to your conclusion.

3

"It's not a cost; it's an investment." Which technique is this?

A) Tripling

B) Contrast

C) A rhetorical question

◆ ☒ I CAN...

Stress-timed = the important words (nouns, main verbs, adjectives) get the beat and stay clear; the small grammar words between them get squeezed. The information is all still there. It's just wearing a disguise.

◆ GRAMMAR BOX — THE FOUR DISGUISES

to	/tə/	I want tə go.
of	/əv/ or /ə/	a cup ə tea · kind ə cold and	/ən/ or /n/	fish 'n' chips
for	/fər/	It's fər you.
was · are	/wəz/ · /ər/	She wəz late. · They ər ready.
them	/ðəm/ or 'em	Tell 'em .
can ≠ can't	/kən/ short · /kænt/ long, stressed	I kən go. ≠ I CAN'T go.

2 • Linking. A final consonant jumps onto the next vowel: turn_it_off → "tur-ni-toff." Between two vowels you hear a tiny /w/ or /y/: go (w) on · I (y) agree.

3 • Elision & assimilation. Sounds disappear (next day · sandwich · most people) or blend (don't you → "doncha" · did you → "didja").

4 • Reductions.

gonna	going to	d'you	do you
wanna	want to	whatcha	what are you / what do you gotta	(have) got to	lemme · gimme	let me · give me

kinda · sorta	kind of · sort of	dunno	don't know

⚠ These spellings only show the sound. When you write, always use the full form: going to, want to, kind of.

🎧 EXERCISE 1 – CAN OR CAN'T?

Your teacher reads eight sentences at natural speed. Write can or can't. Listen for the short /kən/ or the long, stressed /kænt/, not for the t.

- I _____ come on Friday.
- She _____ drive a truck.
- We _____ meet after work.
- They _____ find the keys.
- You _____ park behind the building.
- He _____ speak Spanish, but he _____ speak Portuguese.
- I _____ help you with that.
- We _____ hear you. _____ you speak up?

✎ EXERCISE 2 – EXPAND THE RELAXED FORM

Write each sentence the way you would write it.

- I'm gonna call her tonight. → _____
- D'you wanna come with us? → _____
- I've gotta finish this report. → _____
- It's kinda cold in here. → _____
- Whatcha doing this weekend? → _____
- Lemme see. Gimme a second. → _____
- I dunno. Ask 'em. → _____
- Didja see the game? → _____

🎧 EXERCISE 3 – FIND THE HIDDEN SOUNDS

A. Each phrase hides one weak or dropped sound. Write the missing grammar word or letter.

- "a cup ___ tea" _____
- "I want ___ go" _____
- "She ___ late" (past of is) _____
- "I ___ go" (the positive, quick modal) _____
- "fish 'n' chips" _____
- "nex() day" _____
- "It's ___ you." (a present) _____
- "Tell ___ I'm late." ('em) _____

B. Draw where the words link. Cross out the letter you don't hear. Then say each phrase to a partner.

1. turn it off · 2. pick it up · 3. an apple · 4. this evening · 5. far away

6. next day · 7. sandwich · 8. most people · 9. last night · 10. friendship

◆ 🦟 🖋️ EXERCISE 4 – MICRO-DICTATION

Your teacher reads each sentence twice at natural speed. Count the words on your fingers, then write the full sentence. Then you hear a slow version: check and correct.

1. _____ words: ____

2. _____ words: ____

3. _____ words: ____

4. _____ words: ____

5. _____ words: ____

6. _____ words: ____

🖋️ Which words did you miss? Circle them. Were they big words or small words?

◆ 🦟 🗣️ EXERCISE 5 – DICTOGLOSS: A VOICEMAIL FROM DANA

Dana, a coworker, leaves you a voicemail. (1) Listen once. Just listen. (2) Listen again and write only the big, stressed words. (3) Share your notes with a partner. (4) In a group, rebuild the whole message in correct, complete written English. (5) Compare with the original. Label each thing you missed: WF weak form · L linking · E elision · R reduction.

◆ MY NOTES (BIG WORDS ONLY)

◆ OUR MESSAGE (FULL, CORRECT ENGLISH)

◆ 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – NATURAL SPEED

Sam: Whatcha doing this weekend? D'you wanna grab a coffee?

Jo: I'd love to, but I've gotta finish this report. It's kinda due Monday.

Sam: Ah, no worries. Lemme know when you're free. I'm gonna be around all week.

Jo: Will do. Fish 'n' chips on Friday? My treat.

Sam: Sounds great. See ya then!

 Underline every reduction. Then write Sam's first two lines in full, careful English:

 Read it with a partner twice: once slowly and carefully, once at natural speed. Clap the stressed beats:
WHATcha DOing this WEEKend?

 SPEAKING – DECODE IT

Work with a partner and your A/B card. A says six sentences naturally. B writes each one in full, then answers it like a real conversation ("D'you wanna grab lunch?" → writes Do you want to grab lunch? → says "Sure! Where?"). Swap.

I heard...	Full form	My answer
D'you wanna grab lunch?	Do you want to grab lunch?	Sure! Where?

1

You hear "I wz gonna call ya." What is the full, standard sentence?

A) I was going to call you.

B) I want to call you.

C) I will call you.

2

A speaker says a quick, unstressed /kən/ before "help." Which is most likely?

A) "I can help" (a weak, unstressed can)

B) "I can't help" (the negative)

C) "I could help" (a reduced could)

3

You hear "I dunno. Lemme check." What did the speaker say?

A) I don't know. Let me check.

B) I do now. Let me check.

C) I didn't know. Let me check.

◆ ☒ I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ listen for the stressed words and let the small words flow between them
- ◆ ☐ recognize weak forms (to, of, and, for, was, can) and hear can vs can't
- ◆ ☐ follow linking, and recognize dropped and blended sounds
- ◆ ☐ expand gonna, wanna, gotta, kinda, d'you, whatcha and write the full forms
- ◆ ☐ rebuild a short spoken message in correct written English

GRAMMAR BOX — WHERE THE WORDS GO

Before the number	about · around · roughly · a couple of · a few	There were about twenty people.
After the number	or so · give or take · -odd (after 20, 30, 100...)	Give me ten minutes or so · thirty-odd guests
Attached	-ish (times, ages, colors, some adjectives)	Let's meet at seven- ish .
End of a list	and that kind of thing · and so on · or something	pizza, snacks, that kind of thing
Before an adjective	sort of · kind of · a bit · a little	It's a bit expensive.
Whole sentence	in a way · I guess · I suppose	In a way , you're right.

stuff is uncountable: a lot of stuff ✓ · many stuffs ✗. more or less = almost ("It's more or less finished"), not "so-so."

 Be vague	chatting with friends · casual estimates · small talk · friendly messages · softening an opinion
 Be precise	medicine and dosages · safety instructions · deadlines · money, contracts, legal and financial papers · reports to a manager

EXERCISE 1 – INSERT THE VAGUE EXPRESSION

1. There were _____ fifty guests at the wedding. (approximately, before the number)
2. Let's meet at eight _____. (a suffix meaning "roughly")
3. We bought fruit, vegetables, and that kind of _____. (general noun)
4. The movie was _____ boring, honestly. (soften the adjective; two words)
5. I'll only be a couple _____ minutes.
6. We could order pizza or _____. (a vague alternative)
7. Thirty _____ people turned up, maybe thirty-four. (after a round number)
8. It'll take an hour, give or _____. (complete the set phrase)

EXERCISE 2 – SOFTEN THE OVER-PRECISE SENTENCE

1. Blunt: "This is expensive." → "This is _____ expensive." (two words)
2. Exact: "It lasted 32 minutes." → "It lasted about _____ an hour."
3. Blunt: "I disagree." → "I _____ see it differently." (two words, not kind of)
4. Exact: "There were 48 people." → "There were fifty, give or _____."
5. Blunt: "You're wrong." → "_____ that's true, but..." (three words meaning "partly")
6. Exact: "The work is 100% finished." → "The work is _____ finished." (three words meaning "almost")

EXERCISE 3 – NATURAL OR SLOPPY?

Read the situation and the sentence. Circle  natural or  sloppy (too vague for the situation, or too many placeholders). Rewrite every  sentence so it fits.

1. To a friend: "There were about thirty people at the party, give or take."  /
2. On a medicine label: "Take two-ish tablets every four hours or so."  /  _____
3. Email to your manager: "The report's more or less done. I'll send it sevenish."  /

4. Text to your roommate: "Can you grab milk, bread, and stuff like that?"  /
5. Calling your landlord: "The thingy in the kitchen is kind of broken."  /

6. At the doctor's: "It's a dull pain, sort of here, for about a week." ✓ / ✗

7. Job interview: "I've worked in retail for, like, five years or something." ✓ / ✗

8. In a meeting: "I kind of see it differently. Could we look at the costs again?" ✓ / ✗

✦ ✎ EXERCISE 4 – JUST RIGHT

A. Too robotic. Rewrite it for a friend, with at least three vague expressions.

"The trip takes 34 minutes. I bought 6 items at the store. It cost $12.50. There were 19 people in line."

B. Too vague. Rewrite it for a new coworker so it is clear. Invent the details.

"So you put the stuff with the thingy near the whatsit, and then you kind of do the other thing, or something."

✦ 🗣️ ✎ EXERCISE 5 – TWO VOICEMAILS, ONE STORY

Leo has just moved to a new apartment. He leaves two voicemails: one to his friend Mia and one to his manager, Ms. Carter. Complete the table.

	To Mia (friend)	To Ms. Carter (manager)
How long the move took	_____	_____
What he moved	_____	_____
When he's back at work	_____	_____
Anything else	_____	_____

🗣️ Why doesn't Leo tell his manager about the boxes? Why does he give her exact times?

✦ 📖 🗣️ DIALOGUE – READ WITH A PARTNER

Alex: So how was the party? Were there a lot of people?

Priya: Yeah, about thirty or so, give or take. It was kind of crowded, actually.

Alex: Nice. Did you eat there, or...?

Priya: We grabbed a few things: pizza, snacks, that kind of thing. Nothing fancy.

Alex: And what time did it finish?

Priya: Oh, midnight-ish? I left a bit early. I was sort of tired. We should do something next weekend, though. Bowling or something?

Alex: Definitely. I'm more or less free after Thursday.

 Find one example of each job: $\approx$ approximate _____ ·  general noun _____ ·  hedge

◆ SPEAKING – REGISTER SWITCH AND DESCRIBE IT NATURALLY

 Register Switch: take an A/B card. Tell the same facts twice: first to a friend (relaxed and vague), then to the person on the card (a manager, doctor, landlord or teacher: clear and precise). Your partner plays both listeners.

 Describe It Naturally: describe a place, a routine or a plan for 60–90 seconds (real, a new identity card, or invented). Plan to use one $\approx$, one  and one . Your listener asks one follow-up ("Roughly how far is it?" "What kind of stuff?").

My notes: $\approx$ _____  _____  _____

◆ SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

1

A friend asks how many people came. Which reply sounds the most natural in casual speech?

A) Precisely thirty-one people attended.

B) About thirty or so, give or take.

C) Some, I don't know, whatever.

2

In which situation should you avoid vague language and be precise?

A) Writing dosage instructions on medicine

B) Telling a friend about your weekend

C) Gently disagreeing with someone

3

Which sentence uses vague language in a sloppy way?

A) Pass me the thingy, the remote.

B) I put the stuff with the thingy near the whatsit.

C) We talked about work and that kind of thing.

◆  I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ approximate numbers and times: about twenty, seven-ish, ten minutes or so, give or take
- ◆ ☐ use general nouns: stuff, things, and that kind of thing, or something
- ◆ ☐ soften an opinion: a bit, sort of, in a way
- ◆ ☐ tell natural vagueness from sloppy vagueness

◆ HOW A FORMAL DEBATE WORKS

A motion is a statement to debate: "Phones should be switched off during family meals." The Proposition argues for it; the Opposition argues against it. Your side is drawn from a card.

Role	What you do	Time
 Chair	Opens and closes, calls each speaker, takes floor questions, runs the vote. Stays neutral.	whole debate
 Timekeeper	Shows the cards: 1 MINUTE LEFT · 15 SECONDS · TIME. Counts the votes.	whole debate
 Proposer ·  Opposer	Opening speech: state your side and give 2–3 arguments, each with a reason and an example.	2 min each
 Rebuttal speakers	Answer the other team's points: concede what's fair, then counter. Add a new point if there's time.	1½ min each
 The floor	Ask one short question to a named team.	4 min in total
 Summary speakers	Weigh the debate. No new arguments. Opposition first, Proposition last.	1 min each

The order: Chair opens → vote 1 → Proposer → Opposer → 1-min huddle → Proposition rebuttal → Opposition rebuttal → floor questions → Opposition summary → Proposition summary → vote 2 → Chair closes. The secret vote asks one thing: which team made the stronger case?

◆ LANGUAGE BANK — DEBATING MOVES

Opening	Madam / Mr. Chair, ladies and gentlemen... · We are here to argue that... · Our case rests on three points. · The strongest argument in favor is... · For these reasons, we urge you to support / oppose the motion.
Adding	What's more... · Furthermore... · Not only that, but... · A further point worth making is...
Conceding & countering	Admittedly... / It's true that... · That may be so, but... · While I accept that..., I still believe... · Even if that's the case,... · That said,...
Rebuttal	My opponent claimed that... However,... · That argument ignores... · The other side would have you believe... But...

Floor question	My question is for the proposition / opposition. · You said that... Could you explain...? · What would happen if...?
Concluding	Weighing it all up... · On balance, I'd argue that... · All things considered... · The evidence points to...

Concede before you counter. "No, you're wrong" is weak. "That's a fair point, and it's true that... However..." sounds reasonable and is far more persuasive. Attack ideas, never people.

◆ THE B2 TOOLKIT – PLANT THESE ON PURPOSE

Conditionals	predict a result	If this were introduced , costs would soar.
Impersonal passive	sound objective	It is widely accepted that...
The causative	describe arrangements	Companies would have the work done abroad.
Advanced comparison	weigh options	This is by far the more effective approach.
Cleft & inversion	add emphasis	What really matters is... · Not only does it cost more, but...
Indirect questions	raise an issue politely	We might ask whether this is fair .
Hedging & vague language	sound natural, not stiff	It's sort of a trade-off, in a way .

◆ 🗣️ EXERCISE 1 – LISTEN TO A MODEL DEBATE

Motion: "Cities should ban private cars from their centers." Listen and answer.

1. What is Maya's strongest argument in favor? _____
2. Which groups does Tom say a ban would hurt? _____
3. How does Maya answer Tom's objection? _____

★ One thing I did well: _____

 One thing to work on at C1: _____

 SELF-CHECK – CIRCLE A, B OR C

1

Which phrase best concedes a point and then counters it?

A) "While I accept that it's expensive, I still believe it's worth it."

B) "No, you're completely wrong about that."

C) "What's more, it would also save time."

2

A balanced argument should end with...

A) a reasoned conclusion that weighs both sides and takes a position.

B) no opinion at all, to stay perfectly neutral.

C) a repeat of only the arguments in favor.

In a formal debate, what does the rebuttal speaker mainly do?

A) introduces the motion and explains the rules

B) answers the other team's arguments, conceding what is fair and countering it

C) counts the votes at the end

◆ ☒ I CAN...

- ◆ ☐ follow a debate and notice how speakers concede and counter
- ◆ ☐ build a case for a side I was given: arguments, reasons, examples
- ◆ ☐ give a timed speech from notes, with signposting
- ◆ ☐ answer what the other team actually said
- ◆ ☐ ask and answer a floor question, or chair or time a debate
- ◆ ☐ use a conditional, a passive, a comparison, a cleft or inversion, and a hedge in one speech

◆  MY NEW WORDS

◆  MY FINAL B2 JOURNAL

Which B2 structure are you proudest of using well?
Which still needs work? Then write three sentences about your debate: one argument for, one against, and a conclusion, with a conditional and a concede-and-counter phrase.

MODULE 8 — AND CONFIDENT ENGLISH (B2) — COMPLETE! 🎉

You can follow fast, natural English, choose when to be vague and when to be exact, and argue a case in a formal debate. Look at all your "I can..." lists, from Module 1 to now. Is a box still empty? Tell your teacher. Keep practicing with the online lessons and their 🔊 buttons. Next class is the final assessment and our celebration, and after that, Advanced English (C1) is waiting.
